

PhytoBiotics Formula

The global way of immune support with plants from 5 continents

Dietary Supplement

Plant power from 5 continents plus naturally contained vitamin C to support the body's defenses

The body's immune system is often strongly challenged. And sometimes it also needs external support. This is where selected plant substances come into play, which have been used for centuries in herbal science to support the immune system.

Biogena PhytoBiotics Formula - what is it?

Biogena PhytoBiotics Formula relies on a combination of immunoactive plant extracts from the 5 continents: Vitamin C-rich amla extract (Phyllanthus emblica) from Asia is combined with thyme leaf extract (Thymus vulgaris) from Europe, cat's claw extract (Uncaria tomentosa) from South America, eucalyptus leaf extract (Eucalyptus globulus) from Australia and pelargonium extract (Pelargonium sidoides) from Africa. The mixture is supplemented by extract from the astragalus root (Astragalus membranaceus), which can be found throughout the northern hemisphere. These plant extracts as well as the naturally contained vitamin C from amla complement each other and support the body's defenses, especially in the wet and cold season.
